East Coast Comrades Join With Commander In Honoring Birth of Adolf Hitler

Comrades from all over the Eastern United States joined with Commander Koehl and the National Headquarters staff in celebrating the 91st anniversary of the birth of Adolf Hitler over the weekend of 19-20 April. This year's Hitler Festival included a number of private events, as well as a public demonstration.

The demonstration was held near the Israeli Embassy in Washington, D.C. Although the law prohibits demonstrations directly in front of diplomatic representations, the activity was held in sight of the embassy and as close to it as possible.

Party members and supporters were joined by members of the Cuban National Socialist Legion for the activity. The purpose of the action by the combined National Socialist forces was to protest the war plans of Carter & Co., who are considering U.S. involvement in a Mideast conflict to bolster the sagging American economy and to help safeguard Israel from the growing and righteous wrath of its Arab neighbors.

The National Socialists carried signs reading "Dump Israel," and chanted "One-Two-Three-Four—We Won't Fight A Jewish War!" The demonstration,

Two Arrested in Attack on National Headquarters

Two White males were arrested by the Arlington County police in the early morning hours of 13 April, after firing a shotgun blast at the Party's National Headquarters building. The two, who apparently are not connected with any anti-NS organization, fired a shotgun at the building from a car at about 3:00 a.m. and then sped away.

They returned about a half-hour later and fired a second blast. Unfortunately, both attacks took place so quickly that Party security personnel were unable to return fire. The first blast did no damage at all, while the second knocked out a front window. There were no injuries.

Shortly after firing at the headquarters the second time, the two were apprehended by police. Party security personnel were able to make positive identification of both the assailants and their vehicle. Developments in the case will be reported in upcoming NS BULLETINS.

One of several news articles on the attack is reproduced here.

Arrests Made In Nazi HQ Shooting

ARLINGTON — County police Sunday arrested two Northern Virginia men in connection with a shotgun blast which smashed a window at the headquarters of National Socialist White People's Party earlier in the morning.

Charged with discharging a firearm into an occupied building were James McCord, 26, Alexandria, and James Bowie, 27, Falls Church. Both were arrested by police when seen riding in a car that matched the description of the vehicle seen leaving the Nazi headquarters.

Police said a 12-gauge shotgun was found inside the vehicle.

The incident occurred at 3:37 a.m., police said, when a window of a bedroom at the headquarters building at 2507 N. Franklin Road, was smashed by a single blast. Police said occupants of the building were looking outside the building after reportedly hearing a shotgun blast.

They saw the vehicle pull up in front of the building and a shotgun pointed through an open side window. After the shot, the vehicle left the scene and was stopped by police in the vicinity of Wilson Boulevard and Highland Street, police said.

There were no reported injuries.

which was in civilian attire, received verbal support from numerous observers (both Whites and Blacks) as well as the usual obscenities, outrage and indignation from the many Jews in the nation's capital.

The police dispersed the demonstration shortly after two Party comrades dest oyed an Israeli flag by fire.

Following the demonstration, a quiet picnic lunch was enjoyed by the National Socialists at a secluded location in Arlington.

That evening, some 30 comrades attended a special meeting and ceremonies presided over by the Commander in honor of the Leader's birth.

The Commander began his address by noting that in commemorating the birth of Adolf Hitler, "we join with tens of thousands of other National Socialists around the world who are also celebrating this joyous occasion–some with special ceremonies, some quietly with their families in the privacy of their homes, and still others with appropriate pilgrimages. Regardless of the particular form our celebration may take, however, we all come together in the warm and friendly spirit of National Socialist comradeship to pay tribute to the greatest Aryan who ever lived," the Commander said.

"The advent of Adolf Hitler into this world heralded the dawn of a new day for Aryan mankind everywhere.

"Like a mighty prophet in our time, Adolf Hitler came to reveal the timeless truths of this universe to our Race in the form of his National Socialist doctrine. In fact, it can properly be said that he pointed the way toward our racial salvation by calling for a great moral renewal of Aryan man in the time of his greatest need," Commander Koehl continued.

Following the Commander's address, ceremonies were held to honor those comrades of the World Union of National Socialists who are in prison or who have given their lives while serving Adolf Hitler and his mighty Cause.

Many comrades remained in the National Headquarters area the whole weekend, and marked 20 April with private informal gatherings.

Hitler Festivals were also held in other cities throughout the U.S. and Canada, including Milwaukee.

Leadership School Planned

A special one-week training course for Party leadership cadres will be held immediately prior to the next Party Congress. Those comrades selected to attend the course will be notified concerning its details within the next few weeks.

The course is scheduled to run from Monday, 25 August, through Friday, 29 August. The 10th Party Congress will be held Labor Day weekend (30 August through 1 September).

Leading Party comrades should adjust their vacation schedules accordingly.

ACTIVITIES IN BRIEF

• Letters-to-the-editor by Party comrades appeared in System newspapers in Alabama, Ohio and Pennsylvania during April. The letter to The Birmingham News blasted the "holocaust" myth, while a letter which was printed in the Tiffin, Ohio, Advertiser-Tribune dealt with the anti-NS content of the obituary run in that paper on the death of Negro sports figure Jesse Owens. In Pennsylvania, Comrade James Maloney wrote a strongly-worded letter to the Shenandoah Evening Herald criticizing U.S. support for Israel.

• Members of the Richard Biederman Unit report distributing 800 copies of WHITE POWER during April, as well as posting 265 assorted posters, bumper stickers and mini-stickers.

• Organized distributions were also conducted by comrades in Chicago, Cleveland, Milwaukee and upstate New York.

• Cleveland Party comrades joined with the pro-NS National Alliance on 16 April in picketing the local Public Broadcasting Service television station, which was showing one of those "holocaust" specials which have become so popular in the last few years. There were no incidents.

• A truth squad of National Socialists from NHQ disrupted a meeting of Amnesty International in Arlington on 17 April. The comrades, dressed in civilian clothing, sat patiently through the first part of the meeting. At a prearranged signal, the National Socialists arose and unfurled a 15' by 4' streamer reading "Free Rudolf Hess–Prisoner of Peace!" While the stunned AI'ers gawked on, one of the National Socialists denounced the group and its members as hypocrites, for claiming to stand for the rights of all "prisoners of conscience", but refusing to support Rudolf Hess and other pro-White political prisoners. After having their say, the truth squad left the meeting hall without incident, leaving behind a good number of "Free Rudolf Hess" leaflets for the further edification of the group.

TWO-YEAR PLAN NOTES

LEARN FROM THE ENEMY!

"I have learned a great deal from Marxism. I admit that without hesitation. Not from that boring social theory and materialist conception of history, not from all that absurd nonsense . . . But I've learned from their methods."

—Adolf Hitler

Virtually all observers of the radical political scene in the U.S. would concede without argument that the Communist movement in this country is many times over more powerful than the National Socialist movement, or even the White racialist movement as a whole. Whereas attendance at major Part activities is measured in the dozens, all of the larger Red organizations, and even most of the Red splinter groups, are able to muster several hundred participants for their demonstrations. There are five or six Red parties which publish weekly newspapers (all of them thicker than WHITE POWER), and many more which publish bi-weekly papers. On the whole, these various Communist groups are larger, better organized and better financed than we are.

And sadly enough, the average Red seems to have a higher degree of dedication and commitment to his cause than do many who call themselves National Socialists.

Yet there is one significant glimmer of hope in this otherwise depressing political picture. When National Socialists run for political office, they generally capture between five and 10 percent of the total vote. The percentage of the White vote, which is our true constituency, is usually much, much higher. Red candidates, on the other hand, must settle for less. Vote totals for Communist candidates seldom exceed the range of one-half of one percent to one percent. Additionally, it must be kept in mind that the Reds may also count Jews, Blacks, Mexicans and so forth among their potential constituency, as well as White people.

How has this contradiction developed? If our base of support among the average voter is 10 times higher than that of the Reds, why aren't we the ones with the weekly newspapers and demonstrations with hundreds of people? Why are their parties bigger than ours?

Part of the answer lies in the factors we have already mentioned: The Reds are better organized, better financed and more highly motivated.

How did they get this way? One advantage the Reds enjoy which we do not is the fact that they have been able to organize uninterruptedly in this country since 1919. Our Movement, in contrast, was forcibly shut down by the government in 1941. It wasn't until 1959 (after a few false starts and tottering steps in the late 1940s and early 1950s) that we were able to organize openly once again. That means that the Reds have had over 60 years of uninterrupted development, while we have had only one-third of that.

Additionally, some of the Red groups are able to count on assistance from Communist countries sympathetic to them abroad, although this support—especially financial support—is probably much less than most people would imagine.

But these are only contributing factors to the basic "secret" of Communist success in the U.S.: The Reds have been more successful in organizing themselves and recruiting new members (and especially high quality members) because they have developed more effective forms of activities than we have.

If we are to be more successful than the Reds, we must emulate their methods (although not their goals!) within the general framework of the National Socialist world view. If we do this, we should be able to overtake them in a comparatively short space of time, seeing that the election totals discussed above show that our potential among the American people is at least 10 times as great as the Reds.

In other words, we should learn from the enemy. We should do what they do which is more successful, insofar as it does not flatly contradict our fundamental National Socialist ideology.

We do not have the space here to analyze the various tactics and methods of operation employed by the U.S. Marxists in detail. We feel it worthwhile, however, to mention the following at this time:

• Constant activity—Rather than just holding one or two activities each month, organized Red local units are constantly active, sometimes holding several activities each week for a long period of time. These activities include demonstrations, private meetings, study groups, social events, literature distributions, canvasing and much else.

• Social functions—In addition to purely political activities, Red groups also hold social functions such as picnics, dinners, dances and the like. Although these may have a general political overtone, this is secondary to the social nature of the event. It is an excellent way to introduce friends, coworkers, aquaintances, relatives and other potential recruits to the Movement.

• Thorough ideological indoctrination—Marxist groups place a high priority on making sure that all of their members are thoroughly schooled in their ideology. This is done by holding formal classes, organizing informal study groups and by requiring

Virginia Comrades Active

Comrades in Charlottesville, Va., were active in bringing the Party's message to the public in April.

During the last week of the month, militant Black students at the University of Virginia held daily sit-ins to demand that the school's Black studies program be expanded. (The university, of course, has no White studies program at all.) Blacks would sit-in during the day, go home at night and then return the next morning to resume their demonstration.

It should come as no surprise that the administration did little to discourage this activity.

But on 30 April, local National Socialists decided that it was time that the White people's view of the situation was brought to public attention. That evening, after the Blacks had departed, Party comrades posted some 200 copies of the leaflet "He May Be Your Equal –But He Sure Isn't Ours!" in Cabell Hall, where the ongoing protest was occurring. The leaflets were still there to greet the Black demonstrators the next morning.

The Charlottesville comrades reported extensive media coverage of the distribution.

Special Notice!

Party comrades interested in working in a rural outdoors setting should contact National Headquarters at their earliest convenience. A unique opportunity awaits the right comrade or comrades. Married couples and families with children, who are not adverse to roughing it, may also apply. Caution: Hard work involved!

A Note from NS Publications

Remember the Liberty! is the title of a new two-sided leaflet now available from NS Publications in Cicero. The leaflet discusses the 1967 attack on the unarmed communications vessel, the U.S.S. Liberty by Israeli warplanes and torpedo boats, which left 34 Americans dead. Price: $2 for 50; $10 for 300.

home study of Marxist beliefs by individual Reds. Great emphasis is placed on the study of revolutionary science, both in theory and practice.

- Focus for activities—While they are willing to demonstrate, etc., on a wide variety of issues, Red groups commonly seize upon one or two key issues and focus on them extensively. Thus they do not dissipate their resources by charging off in a half-dozen directions at once.

These are only a few of the methods of operation that the Communists use that we feel should be adopted by our Movement. Those Party units which undertake programs of activities similiar to those listed above generally prove to be the most successful units.

Local units and comrades interested in learning more about Red activities should look through any of the many militant Communist newspapers available. In particular, we recommend The Militant (Socialist Worker's Party), Challenge (Progressive Labor Party) and The Revolutionary Worker (Revolutionary Communist Party).

Their beliefs may certainly be described as total garbage, but their methods of operation are obviously worth studying—especially in view of their overall success.
